Martial Law Is Proclaimed in Havana, Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—Havana province was proclaimed under martial law temporarily today pending the arrival of Provisional President Manuel Urrutia.

By LARRY ALLEN
HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro and thousands of his hard-fighting soldiers continued their slow westward march of triumph today, savoring the adulation being heaped on them as they approached Havana.

Tens of thousands in cities, towns and villages turned out to cheer wildly as Castro and his motorized columns made their way from the Oriente province center of their rebellion which overthrew the dictatorship of Fulgencio Batista last week.

The progress was slow: Camaguey, 300 miles from Havana, Sunday night; tonight, Santa Clara, scene of the decisive defeat which forced Batista to flee, 140 miles further along the march; Tuesday, Matanzas, 50 miles from the capital.

Castro and his men were expected in the capital Wednesday afternoon for one of the greatest welcomes in Cuban history.

In a prelude, Manuel Urrutia, named provisional president by Castro, was flying from Santiago de Cuba this morning to take the central government reins in Havana.

The people of Havana awaited Castro with full stomachs for the first time since the collapse of the Batista government and the dictator's pre-dawn flight to Ciudad Trujillo.

The rebel chieftain, now commander in chief of Cuba's armed forces, ordered an end to the paralyzing general strike which had closed the nation's stores, stores, businesses and industries and tied up transport and communications.

He had said he would call off the strike when he was convinced Havana was safely in the hands of his men.

There were immediate signs of a return to normalcy in the tense, excited city.

Newsprinters began appearing again. Stores flung open their doors to do a land-filling business selling foodstuffs to hungry Havanaites.

Soviet Rocket Continues Space Climb

By HAROLD K. MILKS

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union's cosmic rocket continued its headlong dash toward a solar orbit today in man's greatest conquest of space.

Its radio signals ceased as the 1½-ton device—now called Mecha (dream)—went past an estimated 370,000 miles in its plunge away from the earth. It had then been in flight 22 hours.

Resources for feeding the radio equipment had become exhausted, the Soviet news agency Tass said, and scientific investigations of the rocket had been completed.

This predicted the rocket will finally enter an orbit around the sun Wednesday or Thursday, Mecha is due to take 15 months to go around the sun, traveling elliptically.

The Russians calculate this orbit would have a maximum diameter of 214 million miles. The rocket would get no nearer the sun than 91½ million miles. The sun averages 93 million miles from earth.

The name Mecha was applied to the rocket today by Pravda, the Communist party newspaper. When it was announced last Saturday that the rocket was headed toward the moon, it was called Lunik, a combination of Luna (Moon) and Sputnik.

Scientists here figured that it was travelling at a maximum speed of 1.52 miles a second when it passed the moon Sunday at a distance of 4,700 miles.

Results of radio transmissions between the rocket and ground stations will be published as soon as they are analyzed, Tass said.

The 62 hours of radio communication enabled observations to be

Hays to Join Law Firm in Washington

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.), defeated for re-election by a write-in segregationist candidate, plan to become associated with a law firm in Washington.

Hays said Saturday he would become a specialist in litigation involving federal agencies for the firm of Blair, Korner, Doyle and Worth.

The work will not interfere with his duties as president of the Southern Baptist Convention, he said.

Hays, who has served 16 years as the Fifth District's representative in Congress said he would continue to maintain a legal residence in Little Rock because he hoped some day to set up a law practice with his son, attorney Steele Hays of Little Rock.

The veteran congressman was defeated at the Nov. 4 general election by Dr. Dale Alford, a former member of the Little Rock School Board.

Rayburn Reaches 77th Birthday

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Texas) reaches his 77th birthday Tuesday.

The Texan will meet with fellow Democratic congressmen in the morning at a party caucus to map plans for the 86th Congress, which convenes Wednesday.

Born Jan. 6, 1882 in Boone County, Tenn., Rayburn went to Texas with his parents when a child and was reared on a farm in the northeastern part of the state.

Once speaker of the Texas legislative Bonham legislator was elected to Congress in 1913.

He has been speaker of the U.S. House since 1940 except for four years when the Republicans won the majority—longer than any other man in history.

First Baptist Mission Now a Church

Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m. the First Baptist Mission on West Avenue B was formally organized into an independent Baptist Church.

To be known hereafter as the Calvary Baptist Church. The new church has been a mission arm of the First Baptist Church for the past two years.

Dr. S. A. Whitlow, executive secretary of the Arkansas Baptist State Convention, was present to speak in the service of organization. Rev. M. T. McGregor, assistant missionary for Hope Association including churches in the Magnolia-Hope-Texarkana area also participated in the service.

President Has Notice to Up Defense Money

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower had notice today Democrats are ready to increase his figures if they feel defense spending has been cut too sharply in budget-balancing efforts.

In advance of a bipartisan White House briefing on defense and foreign policies, Democrats, who control the new Congress by top-heavy margins, already were challenging the adequacy of the President's 77-billion-dollar budget.

Invited to the White House briefing were 26 Senate and House members, including leaders of both parties there and senior members of the Armed Services, Appropriations, and Foreign Affairs committees.

Democrats have renewed their calls for more U.S. action in the space field in the wake of the Soviet Union's successful cosmic rocket shot. Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said the Soviet accomplishment had emphasized the task of Congress in meeting what he called "some of the greatest challenges in our history."

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the assistant Democratic leader, already has attacked Eisenhower's contention the budget can be balanced at 77 billion dollars.

Mansfield said revenue for the new fiscal year beginning July 1 won't exceed 75½ billion dollars, even if spending is held down.

Eisenhower said the new budget will provide some additional money for defense purposes over the $40,800,000,000 of the current year, but gave no figure.

Rep. George Mann (D-Tex.) chairman to the House Subcommittee on Defense Appropriations, said Sunday he thinks Eisenhower will suggest about 42 billion dollars and added:

"I don't think that will be too much. It could be too little. The emphasis should be on advanced weapons projects. I want to be sure that no advanced weapons projects are sacrificed for purely monetary reasons."

Although Republican leaders have indicated they expect to support the President's efforts to hold off inflation by limiting government spending, there was some uneasiness on the GOP side about the defense totals.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, candidate of a GOP liberal group for party floor leader, said Congress has its own responsibility to determine the amounts needed for defense. He said Eisenhower's word is not necessarily final on this score.

Bulletin

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados (AP)—Four Britons who tried to make a balloon flight across the Atlantic were found floating at sea today in the gondola of their craft, Small World. They were rescued by a fishing vessel and brought to this island, their original target.

Nothing has been heard from the balloon for 10 days.

The Small World, with a crew of four—three men and a woman, left the Canary Islands Dec. 12 for an attempt at a wind-propelled crossing of the Atlantic. Barbados was the target. Its radio had been silent since Dec. 17.

An earlier report, just before Christmas, had the balloon in Venezuela, but that report proved to be a hoax.

The four left the Canary Islands, 3,000 miles away, Dec. 12. They had not been heard from for 10 days.

A fishing vessel captained by Costa Brathwaite of this island came upon the four at sea about four hours out. He plucked them from the water and brought them ashore near the Crane Hotel, on the southeast shore.

They told him they had cut the balloon loose from the gondola designed as a lifeboat and heavily stocked with food and water.

They declined to tell Brathwaite how long ago they cut the balloon loose, or how long they had been afloat.

"Sorry chaps, the story has been sold," they said.

The London Daily Mail was a sponsor of the expedition.

The sole woman in the party, Rosemary Mudie, 30, who was the copilot and cook, appeared to be the least fatigued.

The expedition's captain, Arnold Elliott, 51, was carried to the beach.

Collin Mudie, 32, Rosemary's husband and Elliott's son Timothy, 21, walked up the winding steps to the Crane hotel, which overlooks the beach where they landed.

Succumbs to Pressure of the Politicians

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Resignation of Herbert Eldridge as Arkansas highway director was announced today.

The resignation was accepted by the Highway Commission at a specially called meeting.

It will be effective as soon as a successor is selected. Eldridge said he would remain until March 1 if a new director is not chosen before then.

Eldridge has been the subject of indirect criticism by Gov. Orval Faubus and more direct opposition from some legislators, who have complained that he was lacking in "good public relations."

Faubus, however, said recently that Eldridge's future was up to the Highway Commission.

The written resignation, dated Dec. 30, was accepted by the commission at a closed session.

Then it was announced to reporters.

Eldridge came to Arkansas from the Texas Highway Department nearly six years ago as the first director under a new-type Highway Commission.

Faubus who had served a few months as highway director was an applicant for the job. That was before he ran for, and was elected, governor.

The five commissioners, who selected Eldridge were appointees of former Gov. Francis Cherry, whom Faubus defeated for re-nomination.

Since then the composition of the commission has changed. Only two Cherry appointees remain. Three commissioners are appointees of Faubus. The governor has selected Armit Taylor of Clarksville as a fourth commissioner to succeed Raymond F. Orr of Fort Smith, whose term will expire next week.

The commission said it was accepting Eldridge's resignation with "regret."

Eldridge's letter, addressed to commission chairman Glenn F. Wallace, said in part:

"I herewith tender my resignation as director of highways for consideration of acceptance by the commission as being in the best interest for the highway program of the state."

The letter said the effective date was to be at pleasure of the commission, which later asked Eldridge to remain until March 1.

There was no indication whether the commission had asked Eldridge to resign. He had said in the past that he would remain on the job until that happened.

THIRD TIME A CHARM?—Although Pioneer II, America's second attempt to "shoot the moon," failed of its objective, much was learned from the rocket which soared 32 times higher than the still-orbiting Vanguard I. Scientists report that only a small deviation in the gyroscopic controls kept Pioneer from making it. Drawing above plots the hoped-for course of the three-stage Pioneer III. If all goes well, 83 pounds of satellite will circle the moon, 39 pounds of which will be instruments designed to probe outer space and to flash back to earth data on the unseen side of the moon.

POLIO FIGHT STALLS—The dramatic taming of polio over the past four years is shown on Newschart above. A marked decline in number of cases is registered for each year (nine-month comparison), up until 1958, even though this year, for the first time, there was no shortage of vaccine in any area. While total number of cases decreased moderately, paralytic cases numbered 238 more than 1957. Tragic fact is that hardest hit were children under five, the majority of whom had been given no vaccine. Today, over 40 million Americans under 40 still have received no polio shots.

Columnist for Newspaper Goes to Jail

NEW YORK (AP)—Newspaper columnist Marie Torre, charged with the legal crossroads of her contempt case today. Dismissal of news source or go to jail.

The 34-year-old mother of two gets her last chance to purge herself of contempt of court, at a hearing before U.S. Dist. Judge Sylvester J. Ryan.

If she maintains her refusal to disclose the source of a story, she wrote about Judy Garland in 1957, she must begin serving a 10-day sentence.

Mrs. Torre, who writes a syndicated television and radio column for the New York Herald Tribune, refuses to discuss the case.

Ryan has said that the columnist again may be adjudged in contempt—even after completing her sentence—if she persists in refusing to identify the Columbia Broadcasting System executive she quoted anonymously in reference to Miss Garland in a column that appeared in the Herald Tribune Jan. 10, 1957.

In it, Miss Torre quoted an executive of CBS in criticism of Miss Garland.

The entertainer filed a $1,300, 333 libel suit against CBS. Neither Miss Torre nor the Herald Tribune was named as a defendant.

Ryan adjudged Miss Torre in contempt last November. The Herald Tribune appealed the case to the U.S. Court of Appeals, which upheld the conviction. The case then went to the U.S. Supreme Court, but that tribunal declined a review it.

New Order to Direct L. R. Integration

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A new federal court order directing that school integration resume in Little Rock is expected to be handed down this week. But the ruling apparently will have no immediate effect on Little Rock's static racial controversy.

U.S. District Judge John E. Miller of Port Smith has set a hearing for tomorrow to listen to arguments in the prolonged integration dispute. He has said his order will be handed down before the end of the week.

The hearing is an outgrowth of a mandate of the Eighth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals which directed Miller to:

Enjoin the Little Rock School Board from taking action to impede, thwart or frustrate integration; enjoin the board from leasing property of the school district for use as private, segregated schools; and order the board to take immediate affirmative steps to accomplish integration.

Miller himself has said the appellate court left him little judicial leeway.

But even if the district judge's order followed the mandate to the letter, the immediate effectiveness of his action would be in doubt.

A school board member, who would not be sued by name, said the board could only rely that it was powerless to heed the order since Little Rock's high schools were closed.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus closed the high schools last September to avoid court-decreed integration. As long as Faubus' authority remains valid, the schools are expected to remain closed.

A possible next step would be a federal court challenge of the constitutionality of the school closing state law under which Faubus acted. Any such test could take state law under which Faubus acted. Any such test would take time and would probably rule out reopening of the schools this year.

Although Miller allowed time for interested parties to intervene in the pending integration hearing, only two new actions have been filed. The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People asked that Miller issue an order for immediate integration, and the members of the old school board, which was replaced by resignation and the Dec. 8 school election, asked that they be removed as defendants.

The integration suit, now in its third year, will bring some new faces and some already familiar ones into Miller's court tomorrow.

Wiley Branton of Pine Bluff, attorney for the Negro students who brought the suit, said he has asked Thurgood Marshall of New York to assist him. Marshall, chief counsel for the NAACP, ap-returned to their home Wednesday after a visit with Mrs. Julia Gann and Mrs. J. C. Woodul who accompanied them home for a visit.

Mrs. C. D. McSwain returned to her home in El Dorado Wednesday after a visit with Dr. and Mrs. O. G. Hirst and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gilbert.

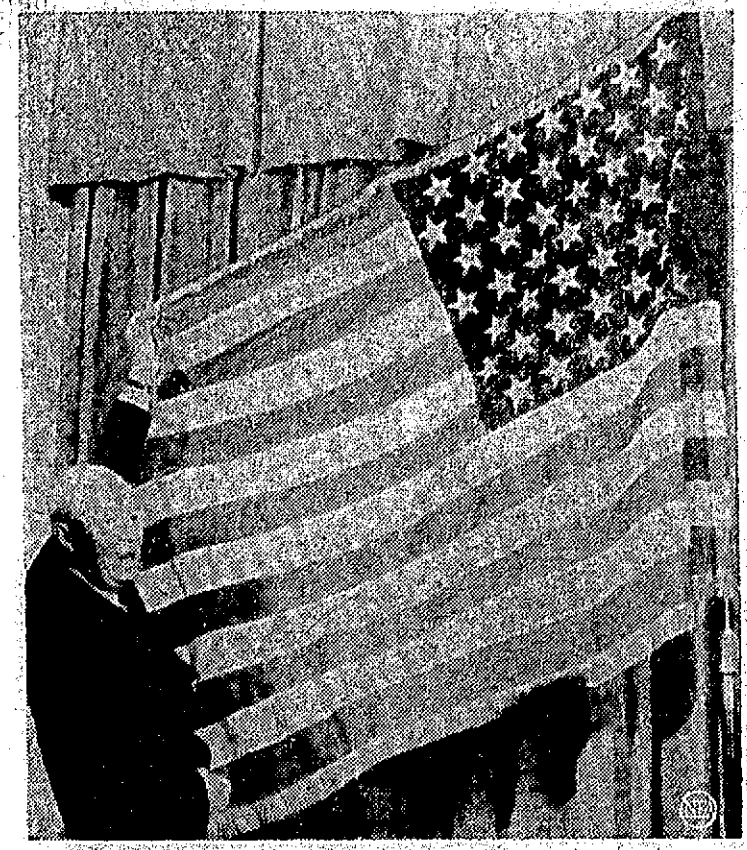

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Oldenburg have returned to New Orleans after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Yernon Buchanan.

House guests of Mr. and Mrs. Watson Buchanan have been Dr. and Mrs. Bill Caldwell, Billy, Philip and Michael of Houston and Clyde Buchanan of Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Harley left Wednesday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Haynie in Houston.

Layne, Matson Stars of the Honolulu Bowl

HONOLULU (AP)—Bobby Layne and Ollie Matson, who passed up the Pro Bowl game, starred Sunday as a professional team beat a band of collegians 47-27 in the 13th Hula Bowl.

Layne, a Pittsburgh Steeler quarterback, threw five touchdown passes; one a 60-yarder that and Billy Howton of Green Bay turned into 491 yard touchdown play.

Matson, a Chicago Cardinal, was a big ground gainer. He and San Francisco 49er Joe Perry took the ball 75 yards in five plays in one fourth quarter drive.

Layne and Matson still have some accounting to do to National Football League Commissioner Bert Bell for passing up next Sunday's Pro Bowl at Los Angeles for the island trip. Bell says he will seek disciplinary action against the pair at the next NFL meeting.

Layne, who completed 19 of 33 passes for 421 yards, was voted the most valuable pro back.

New Baptist Group to Form Own Church

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Members of a new Baptist Church congregation at Little Rock voted last night to buy a church building immediately adjacent to the Rev. Wesley Pruden's Broadmoor Baptist Church.

The Rev. O. C. Robinson Jr., superintendent of missions for Pulaski County and temporary pastor of the University church, announced the group's decision to buy the Broadmoor Kindergarten building.

He said members would campaign this week to raise the $5,000 needed to make the down payment on the $65,000 property.

Pruden, the immediate past president of the Capital Citizens Council last week protested organization of the University church in a telegram to Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark), president of the Southern Baptist Convention.

The minister called the move a "deliberate act of reprisal against me for my forthright stand for Southern traditions during the Little Rock racial crisis."

Hays said each Baptist church is a self-governing body and that he doubted he had any authority in the matter. He added, however, that he would be glad to study Pruden's telegram when he received it.

vaneros, taxis and buses resumed operation. Industrial workers began preparing to return to their jobs.

Castro's bearded soldiers patrolled the streets with rifles, pistols, and machineguns, guarded government buildings and banks and roamed the lobbies and corridors of hotels, on the alert for violence.

Speedy executions already had been meted out to at least five Batista henchmen. They were Capt. Jos Garcia Menocal, a police inspector in the western province of Pinar del Rio; Brig. Gen. Joaquin Casilla, Batista's commander in Las Villas province, and three of his top staff officers.

Among those under arrest was Dr. Joaquin Martinez Saez, president of the National Bank of Cuba.

The frantic exodus of thousands of American tourists eased off. Scores who had been planning to leave decided to stay. More than 1,000 had returned to the states by special ships and planes.

All commercial airlines were given permission to resume flights between the United States and Cuba early today.

made of the rocket's movements, and on the work of the scientific instruments aboard.

The actual number of days that will be required for the solar orbit will be 447, scientists said. This is 82 more than it takes the earth to go around the sun.

Dr. G. M. Clemence, scientific director of the U. S. Naval Observatory in Washington, said that some time in March or February the earth will pass between the rocket and the sun.

The earth has an elliptical orbit around the sun, the same as the rocket will have, but it is tighter. It takes the earth only 12 months to make the full swing.

Soviet newspapers Sunday were filled with comments on the performance and predictions of the rocket's launch. But there were no further details on the rocket itself, its launching site or power.

On a Moscow radio broadcast Prof. Boris Kukarkin, deputy chairman of the Soviet Astronomical Council, mentioned the possibility of a space ship soaring outside the entire solar system.

A neighbor found Mrs. Smith lying across a bed. Saturday night with highways slickened by ice and snow, an automobile and a pickup truck collided on U. S. Highway 66 on the outskirts of North Little Rock killing Mrs. Mary Lou Bonds 31, of Conway.

Her mother, Mrs. Mollie Blankenship, 58, also of Conway, was injured and was hospitalized at Little Rock. Attendants said today she was in serious condition.

Both women were riding in the automobile.

Traffic accidents killed a total of nine during the week, five four, shooting two and one person was electrocuted accidentally.

The last victim of the holiday period, which began at 8 p. m. Wednesday and closed Sunday midnight, was an 88-year-old McCrory woman who died in a Little Rock hospital of burns suffered at her home.

Authorities said the woman, Mrs. Elizabeth Mary Smith, apparently was standing over a floor furnace Sunday morning when her bed clothing caught fire.

Soviet Deputy Meets Dulles, Is Picketed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet

Dep. Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan reported today he discussed the Berlin problem and Germany with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

After an hour 35-minute session with Dulles, Mikoyan said they also talked over disarmament and trade problems.

On leaving the State Department, Mikoyan said he has arranged to meet in two weeks with President Eisenhower after a tour of American cities.

He is reported planning to visit Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, Dallas and Los Angeles.

Speaking through an interpreter, Mikoyan described the meeting with Dulles as "a useful talk."

The Russian leader, who arrived from Moscow Sunday, smiled broadly as he arrived at the State Department. Seven Hungarian Freedom Fighters, carrying placards reading "Go Home Mikoyan," shouted insults as he walked up with Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshkov.

Mikoyan and the ambassador pressed through a crowd of about 100 reporters and photographers arriving in Dulles' outer office, they posed for pictures with Dulles, seated on a divan.

"Very glad to see you," Dulles said, shaking hands with Mikoyan. Once seated, Dulles put his arm behind Mikoyan on the back of the divan and the two men launched into a friendly conversation—all about the weather.

Want to Make Hoffa Toe the Mark

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Teamsters Union monitors today proposed a tough federal court order to make James R. Hoffa toe the mark in carrying out union reforms.

Martin F. O'Donoghue, chairman of the three-man, court-appointed monitor board, prepared the order for the signature of U.S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts.

The court ordered a hearing Friday.

Judge Letts held on Dec. 11 that Hoffa and fellow Teamsters leaders have been giving the monitors a run-around and thwarting union reforms recommended under the unique monitoring system. Letts asked O'Donoghue to prepare appropriate orders for his signature.

Hoffa's lawyers will appear before Letts Friday in an effort to get the court to tone down the proposed findings prepared by O'Donoghue.

O'Donoghue's proposed findings for Letts reportedly would crack down hard on Hoffa and the corruption-tainted Teamsters Union, ousted from the AFL-CIO after repeated Senate committee hearings disclosures.

O'Donoghue's proposals would require Hoffa, on penalty of contempt of court proceedings, to obey the monitors. The Teamsters would be obliged to cancel plans for out reforms already suggested, but to obey strictly all such reforms proposed in the future.

Additionally, the Teamsters would be obliged to cancel plans for a special convention next March in Chicago, a step Hoffa has planned to vote the monitors out of business.

AGAIN—Adm. Harry D. Felt, commander of U.S. forces in the Pacific, believes that the Chinese Reds will try to take Quemoy and Matsu from the Nationalists again next spring. He said the situation in the Formosan Straits has become stable enough for the time being to "withdraw some of the U.S. forces stationed there."

Matter of FACT

The first authentic record of the use of fingerprints in the United States reveals that Gilbert Thompson of the U.S. Geological Survey used his thumb impression to prevent the forgery of commissary orders during his supervision of a survey in Mexico in 1882. It was not until 1903, however, that several penitentiaries in the state of New York began to fingerprint their prisoners.

Chapter XXXI

Hope wanted instantly to buy it; so did Emmy; so did Boy. Adam had a species of seizure.

Did they—including Boy, who was old enough to know better—realize how much money would have to be poured into it? The kitchen wasn't practical, the heating system would have to be overhauled, if not ripped out and thrown away, and there was only one bathroom.

Hope said, "But we wouldn't live here in winter, that is, not until you retire."

"By which time the house will have fallen down," Adams said. Emmy shrieked with pleasure. She wanted to see a house fall down. In fact, she had yearned to push one down herself. There had been times when she'd tried. Everyone knows that when you are small the walls are far away, but the bigger you grow the closer they come and sooner or later you have to push them out. This knowledge reached Emmy earlier than most but was fortunately, of brief duration.

Hope said, "This house has been right here for a couple of centuries, more or less."

"Less. Honestly, woman, have you lost your mind?"

She said, "Forget it. I realize it's impractical... like me. It isn't a weekending distance from home, and you can't take all summer off. It would just be for holidays, so it's better to rent and go different places as we usually do. And it's not a place where we could bring Elsa, she'd be bored stiff."

"Ich denke I miss Elsa," Emmy remarked. She was now rolling on the wide floor boards with Boy; and qualified meticulously, "only ein bisschen."

Elsa was at home, conscious that she would not get a vacation, she hadn't been with them long enough, she said. So she'd True, off while they were away. Ja. She would not be lonely. She had the friends, the relatives, her church, the movies, and the cemetery. Everything would be fine.

One night they went with Emmy to the beach and saw a girl walking alone, her head bent, stopping to look into shallows and then walking on again.

"Either she's in love or has just fallen out. Maybe he has, or she's just wondering. I wonder, too, why she isn't in school."

"Perhaps a scare, like at home."

"Wrong last night?"

"Maybe, Adam said, what was 'What should be?'"

"You got up and went to the bathroom at 10 past two."

"Since when with a grown woman start with horror at the crass idea, unless she's a bride."

"Oh, be quiet," said Hope. "What was the matter?"

"I had a pain. I went in and took some of that filthy medicine."

She asked, "How can you be so stubborn?"

"I thought you wanted me to take my medicine."

"Now you're perverse. Please, darling, when we get home, go into the hospital and get the works. You're always yelling that after 40, every man should have a checkup each year or six months."

He said, "Don't take on. It's only indignation."

"I know I'm not an exceptional cook."

"I wasn't talking about your cooking. I'd get it at Claridges. George the Waiters, the Carville. The pain I mean. Its just one of those things."

"I've tried to give you a diet as plain as Emmy's."

And as the sun grew more yellow somehow, the days warm, the nights cool, she had to be content with the promise. She would wait until they went home and then hound him into keeping his word. But, she thought, he always kept his word. But she did not have to wait that long, for one night he was frighteningly ill and she ran out, her foot bare, in her thin robe and nightgown, and hammered on the neighbors door. For their little house had no telephone.

The neighbors called a local doctor. He came out, looked listened, and gave Adam something to gentle down the symptoms and ease the pain, and something else to help him sleep, and said Adam must come without fail to his office next day.

It was silly, said Adam, as Hope and Emmy drove him there and then went off to shop. Emmy merry as a grig, whatever that is, and Hope so gay and casual. "Bye, darling, we'll pick you up later."

He had to wait, for the doctor was busy and many depended on him. While waiting, he looked through windows over fields, a salt marsh, and a glen of water, and tried to think, and couldn't properly.

He told himself it was only a bellyache or other allied disturbances. Perhaps it was the start of one of the almost routine ailments people talked about, especially in Wall Street and along Madison Avenue, and in the paneled air-conditioned offices of executives. Ulcer. Spastic colon. Or something psychosomatic, although what he had to be psychosomatic about he wouldn't know.

So he went into the office, sat at a desk, and listened to the questions he hadn't been able to answer last night: when this idiotic business had begun—"No, not that far back, I could eat shingles fried in butter and feel wonderful"—and then he went into an examination room, took off his clothes, and lay down. He thought, Perhaps I'll just go to sleep and forget the whole business and when I wake up I'll know I dreamed it.

Cincinnati to Try to Regain Some Prestige

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Humiliated by two consecutive defeats in the Dixie Classic last week, Cincinnati and Big O, Oscar Robertson, jump right back into the fire tonight when they tangle with Bradley.

All last season, the Bearcats lost only three games. Bradley licked them early in the campaign. Then it was Oklahoma State and finally Kansas State in the NCAA tournament. They took Bradley over the second time around, however.

This is a big one for Robertson and company. Their pride has been hurt. Moore realistically, Bradley is rated the only team in the Missouri Valley Conference with the possible exception of St. Louis, with a chance of knocking Cincinnati out of the title.

The Braves also are undefeated, having raced past all eight of their opponents to date. They warmed up to their task by turning back Drake, 81-57, Saturday night.

Another worry for Cincinnati is the possibility of being knocked right out of the top 10 in the weekly Associated Press poll. None of the others in the select circle last week has lost more than one game and three—Kentucky, Auburn and Bradley—are undefeated at the top of the heap with 11 victories—high in the nation—polished off Georgia Tech, 72-62, Saturday.

But Adolph Rupp's slick Wildcats may not have things easy this year. Already they're casting worried looks over their shoulder in the direction of Auburn. The Wildcats won the 1958 Southeastern Conference title by just one game over Auburn, which is about as thin as you can slice it.

The Plainsmen figure to make Mississippi their ninth straight victory next day.

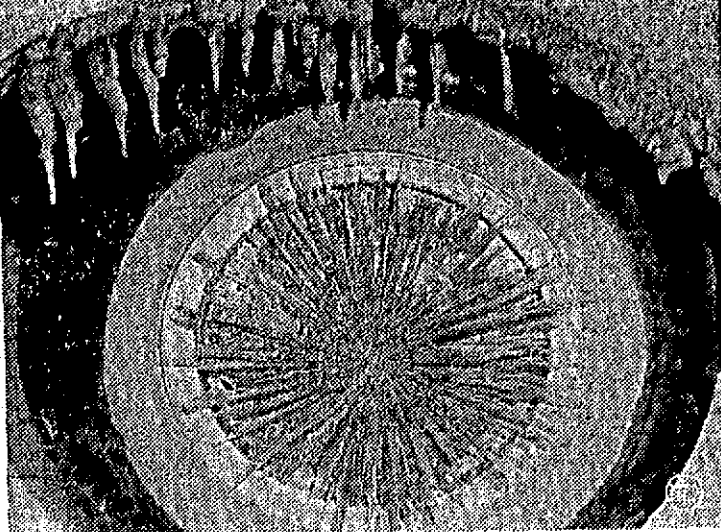

It was silly, said Adam, as Hope and Emmy drove him there and then went off to shop. Emmy merry as a grig, whatever that is, and Hope so gay and casual. "Bye, darling, we'll pick you up later."

He had to wait, for the doctor was busy and many depended on him. While waiting, he looked through windows over fields, a salt marsh, and a glen of water, and tried to think, and couldn't properly.

How Many Beans...

Perhaps you, too, stood outside a store window in your youth and tried to estimate the number of beans in a display.

Guessing the circulation of a newspaper was once quite a game for advertisers,

But the Audit Bureau of Circulations took all the chance out of this game. A.B.C. auditors don't stand outside and estimate—they come inside the publisher's office and count.

When the auditor is finished and his precise findings published, well there's just no room for guessing.

It's all there in his report—how much circulation, where copies were circulated, how much people paid, and some of the reasons why the people bought our paper.

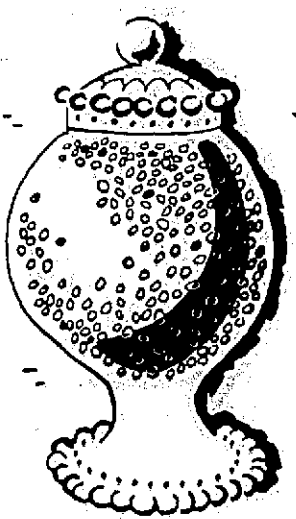

There's no reason to guess about the circulation audience you get when you advertise in our paper. The facts are down in black and white for you to see.
